

ABSTRACT

A cooking, roasting, baking or grilling device including a portion having a self-cleaning coating formed by a plurality of porous particles. The coating of porous particles having pores and a binder, which enables food remnants to be removed without mechanical action.